Allow Multisite in wp-config.php

For more flexibility in work its better to have a one dashboard for all your stores inside wordpress panel So now we are going to configure your panel to make that happen

Wordpress multiSite configuration

Open the file `wp-config.php`, which is located in the main directory of your WordPress, and add the line `define('WP_ALLOW_MULTISITE', true);`

The first step is to activate the Multisite feature in the file wp-config.php.

1. Set up a FTP connection to your website.

2. Open the file wp-config.php, which is located in the main directory of your WordPress, and add the line

define('WP_ALLOW_MULTISITE', true);

above the line:

/* That's all, stop editing! Happy blogging. */

```
66 $table_prefix = 'wp_';
67
68 /
69  * For developers: WordPress debugging mode.
70  *
71  * Change this to true to enable the display of notices during development.
72  * It is strongly recommended that plugin and theme developers use WP_DEBUG
73  * in their development environments.
74  *
75  * For information on other constants that can be used for debugging,
76  * visit the Codex.
77  *
78  * @link https://codex.wordpress.org/Debugging_in_WordPress
79  */
80 define('WP_DEBUG', false);
81
82
83 /* Multisite */
84 define('WP_ALLOW_MULTISITE', true);
85
86 /* That's all, stop editing! Happy blogging. */
87
88 / Absolute path to the WordPress directory. */
89 if ( !defined('ABSPATH') )
90     define('ABSPATH', dirname(__FILE__) . '/');
91

Create a Network of WordPress Sites

Welcome to the Network installation process!

Fill in the information below and you'll be on your way to creating a network of WordPress sites. We will create configuration files in the next step.

Addresses of Sites in your Network

Please choose whether you would like sites in your WordPress network to use sub-domains or sub-directories. You cannot change this later.

You will need a wildcard DNS record if you are going to use the virtual host (sub-domain) functionality.

☐ Sub-domains like `site1.multisite.████.de` and `site2.multisite.████.de`

☒ Sub-directories like `multisite.████.de/site1` and `multisite.████.de/site2`

Network Details

Server Address The internet address of your network will be `multisite.████.de`.

Add some code to wp-config.php and .htaccess

WordPress will now provide you with two snippets of code, which you need to add to the wp-config.php and .htaccess files. Both files are located in the root directory of your WordPress.

- 1 Set up a FTP connection to your website.
- 2 Add the first code snippet to your wp-config.php directly above the line

`/* That's all, stop editing! Happy blogging. */`

The snippet looks like this, but adapted to your own site:

define('MULTISITE', true);
define('SUBDOMAIN_INSTALL', true);
define('DOMAIN_CURRENT_SITE', 'My Website');
define('PATH_CURRENT_SITE', '/');
define('SITE_ID_CURRENT_SITE', 1);
define('BLOG_ID_CURRENT_SITE', 1);
```

- 3 Add the second code snippet to the .htaccess file and replace other WordPress rules.

```
RewriteEngine On RewriteBase /
RewriteRule ^index\.php$ - [L]

add a trailing slash to /wp-admin
RewriteRule ^([_0-9a-zA-Z-]+)/wp-admin$ $1wp-admin/ [R=301,L]

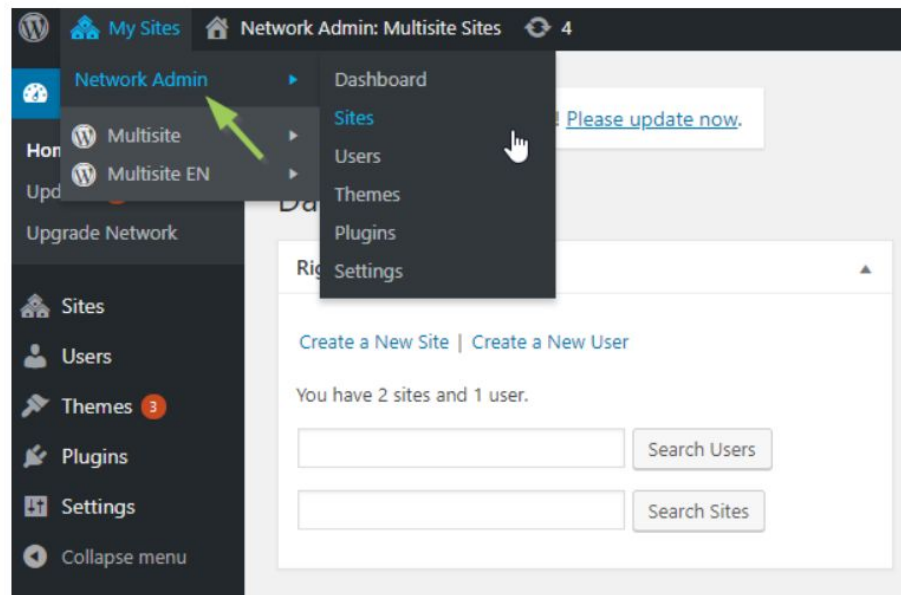

RewriteCond %{REQUEST_FILENAME} -f [OR]
RewriteCond %{REQUEST_FILENAME} -d
RewriteRule ^ - [L]
RewriteRule ^([_0-9a-zA-Z-]+)/?(wp-(content|admin|includes).*) $2 [L]
RewriteRule ^([_0-9a-zA-Z-]+)/?(.*\.php)$ $2 [L]

5. Menu network administration and the network settings

When you changed the wp-config.php and the .htaccess, log into your WordPress admin area again. In the upper admin bar, you now see the new menu Network Admin. It's displayed always, so you can always enter the admin area of the network, no matter on which site of your network you are. We take a look at the sub menus later on.

Below the network administration, all sites of the network are listed to which you were added. By clicking on the names, you enter the backends of these sites.
